Typhoon Mawar Update; Emergency Shelters Open at 8 A.M.

Officials continue to monitor Typhoon Mawar as it makes its gradual approach toward the Marianas. As of 4 a.m., Mawar was located 10.6 degrees north latitude and 146.9 degrees east longitude, about 245 miles southeast of Guam and 320 miles south-southeast of Saipan. It is moving north-northwest at 7 mph, with maximum sustained winds of 105 mph.

Mawar is expected to maintain this general course and speed over the next 24 hours. The latest forecast track shows a westward bend in the vicinity of the Marianas with passage near or over Guam Wednesday. With Mawar expected to intensify, Guam may see tropical storm force winds as early as Tuesday afternoon, with the possibility of typhoon force winds of 81 - 110 mph by Wednesday morning. Torrential rainfall is likely as Mawar passes with rainfall amounts of 8 to 15 inches possible.

What to Do:

- Do not wait to seek shelter;
- Secure your pets indoors or in a safe space, away from the heavy winds and rains. Remember, the emergency shelters will not accept pets; make plans now for them to stay with a loved one, friend or family member;
- Stay up to date – monitor local news, the National Weather Service and the Joint Information Center;
- All preparedness activities should be completed. If you are done securing your home and know someone elderly, living with a disability, or who will otherwise need assistance, please see how you can help them. If you know a neighbor or family member who has no way of getting information about the storm, please provide them with updates.
- Once Guam is in Condition of Readiness (COR) 1 at 1 p.m. today, remain indoors in a safe structure until COR 4 is announced.
